Your tennis ball can is turned into a personal fishing line recycling kit given to local anglers. This way, they can easily collect broken fishing line and hooks to keep them out of the environment, where they can cause harm to people and animals.

If you would like more information about this project please contact Jill Bartolotta Ohio Sea Grant Educator The Ohio State University Bartolotta.2@osu.edu 440-479-7602